Western and Central North Dakota
Climate Normals, Records, and Extremes

Please note that the record temperature, precipitation, and snowfall data is preliminary and has not undergone final quality control by the National Climatic Data Center. Final and certified climate data can be accessed at the NCDC. Information regarding the 1981-2010 Normals can be found at the NCDC's normals page. All temperature data are in degrees Fahrenheit, while all precipitation data (including both liquid and snow) are in inches
